Purpose

Background

The Beyond Off Street Evaluation for the Department for Energy Security and Net Zero, in partnership with RSM and Urban Foresight is evaluating the funded Beyond Off Street programme to understand the process and impacts the funding has had.

Data controller and data processors

For the purposes of this project:

1. Department for Energy Security and Net Zero is the data controller
2. Winning Moves is the data processor
3. RSM and Urban Foresight are also a data processor

Type of data that will be processed

For this project, we will process the following types of personal data:

1. Simple data including your name, email address, organisation name, telephone number,
2. Behavioural data including your experience with / thoughts / opinions / feedback on the Beyond Off Street Programme, activities, preferences, performance
3. Financial data including your turnover, assets, profit, grants, financial health

How we get the personal data we process

Most of your personal information has been shared with us by the Department for Energy Security and Net Zero (DESNZ) through the provision of your contact details because you were a beneficiary of the programme. We will also process additional personal data when we interview you.

The legal basis for processing your personal data

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

1. Public task: your contact details were shared with us by DESNZ as they require us to process your personal data to perform a public task. In this instance, it is to enable them to better understand the value for money and impact that their Beyond Off Street programme has provided.
2. Consent: prior to commencing an interview with you, we explicitly seek your consent to collect and process your personal data. Informed consent is always collected by way of an affirmative action such as selecting 'next' to continue with a survey, a recorded verbal agreement when taking part in an interview, or an agreement in writing indicating that you would like to proceed with the research. You can withdraw your consent at any time by informing the interviewer or emailing dataprotection@winningmoves.com.

How we will use your personal data

Data will be attributed to your organisation in case studies, and will be aggregated in reports, however due to the small number of projects involved it may be possible that some people may know where statements came from. Data will be used for market and social research purposes: this includes carrying out analysis and producing reports on behalf of the client who has commissioned the survey. Data will be used for quality control purposes: we may telephone you to validate your responses. Data may be used where you have given consent, to recontact you about follow-up research. Results will be reported back to our client in an anonymised and aggregated format but given the small number of programmes, it may be possible to know where some statements came from. You will be made aware of this prior to interviewing and explicit consent will be sought to share anonymised responses.

Will we share your personal data?

Your personal data will be shared with the following third parties: RSM and Urban Foresight who are also working on this evaluation. Any third party must also process the personal information as set out in this Privacy Policy and as permitted by the UK's Data Protection Act/laws.

How we will keep your personal data

Your information will be securely stored. We will protect the confidentiality of your information in accordance with our normal data handling procedures and all legal requirements. We will not use it for any purposes other than those which are set out in this Notice. We are committed to keeping personal data secure and take all reasonable technical and organisational measures to protect personal data from loss, misuse or alteration.

The length of time we hold your personal information varies depending upon the type of information and its use. We will hold your personal information on our systems only for as long as necessary to provide research services to our clients, and will anonymise data where possible, securely deleting personal data associated with it at the earliest possible point. For this project, we intend to keep personal data until the project closes in June 2024. We will then dispose your information by secure digital deletion.

Where your personal data will be processed

Your data will not be transferred or stored outside the UK or European Economic Area.

Your Rights

Co-operation in research is voluntary at all times regardless of what the research is about or who our client is. You are entitled at any stage to ask that your personal data, or part or all of the record of your survey responses, be destroyed or deleted and we will carry out such a request. This can be requested during the interview itself or afterwards. You have the right to access any personal data that we process relating to you. We may ask for verification of your identity before releasing any information to you.
