Cyber Essentials

As a Market Research Society Company Partner, you can trust that your personal information will be treated with respect, and it will only be used for the purposes that we inform you about. It is not our aim to sell or promote anything. We conduct market research using scientific methods and we commit, in obtaining your co-operation, not to mislead you about the nature of the research or how the findings will be used. You can verify that we are a bona fide market research consultancy by contacting the Market Research Society (MRS) on freephone 0500 396 999.

Purpose

Background

GigaHubs ('Hubs') is one of the products Building Digital UK (BDUK) is using to deliver the government ambition of gigabit capabilities across the UK by 2030. BDUK is an executive agency of the Department for Science, Innovation and Technology (DSIT). The product is being used by BDUK to invest in gigabit capable broadband infrastructure and connections with the aim of accelerating local and national rollout.

BDUK has commissioned an independent evaluation of the BDUK Hubs programme. The evaluation is being led by Belmana and supported by Winning Moves and Hatch. The evaluation is to help BDUK assess the impact of the Hubs programme.

Data controller and data processors

For the purposes of this project:

1. BDUK is the data controller
2. Winning Moves is the data processor
3. Belmana is also a data processor

Data will be shared with Belmana by Winning Moves, via the agreed data sharing method. All data will be transferred securely using either SharePoint or Quatrix.

Type of data that will be processed

For this project, we may process the following types of personal data:

1. Simple data including your name, phone number, e-mail address, employment category / job title
2. Behavioural data including respondents views on the observed benefits regarding broadband upgrade in the local community / public services.

How we get the personal data we process

Most of your personal information is provided through the following ways:

- > Your contact details were obtained from the public domain, BDUK, or the local authority implementing the GigaHubs programme in your area.
- > If you take part in a survey, additional data will be collected from you directly through your survey responses.

The legal basis for processing your personal data

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

3. Public task: your contact details were obtained from the public domain, or via referral from BDUK or a local authority, as BDUK require us to process your personal data to perform a public task. In this instance, it is to enable them to better understand the impact that the Hubs programme is providing to recipients.
4. Consent: prior to commencing an interview with you, we explicitly seek your consent to collect and process your personal data. Informed consent is always collected by way of an affirmative action such as selecting 'next' to continue with an online survey, a recorded verbal agreement when taking part in an interview, or an agreement in writing indicating that you would like to proceed with the research. You can withdraw your consent at any time by informing the interviewer or emailing dataprotection@winningmoves.com

How we will use your personal data

- > If you take part in a survey, your data will be pseudonymised for analysing the survey responses. This means that in the dataset used for analysis, we will remove information that directly identifies you, for example, replacing your name and certain personal details with an ID number.
- > Personal data will not be used in reporting the survey findings, and individual survey responses will not appear in the report. Survey response data will be reported in an aggregated format. This means that your survey responses will be combined with several other responses we have received (e.g. all hubs in your region) and shown in the report as a part of a combined total or as a percentage of the total. If you take part in an interview, names and specific job titles will not be used in reporting, although we may refer to the organisation that you work for. For example, "Delivery partner, Gloucestershire County Council".

We may keep personal data on file to recontact individuals to clarify any outstanding queries, provided that consent has been obtained to recontact.

Personal data is to be used for market and social research purposes only: this includes carrying out analysis and producing reports on behalf of the client who has commissioned the interview or survey.

Personal data may also be used for quality control purposes: we may telephone you to validate your responses.

Will we share your personal data?

If you take part in an interview, your personal data (name, organisation, job role and contact details) will be shared with the following third parties:

- > Our Partner organisation, Belmana who are leading on this evaluation. Belmana will use this information so that they can understand who has had the opportunity to provide insights about the GigaHubs rollout in each region.

In addition, the transcript of your interview may be shared with Belmana so that they can draw on the evidence you provide when they write up a report on the evaluation findings.

If you take part in a survey, your personal data (name, organisation and contact details) will be shared with the following third parties:

- > Our partner, Belmana, will have access to your responses in their pseudonymised format so that they can analyse the survey data when producing the evaluation report.
- > Our sub-processors who may carry out some of the processing on Winning Moves' behalf, and under Winning Moves control. These processors are:
 - IdSurvey, a service provider who hosts our survey platform.

Any third party must also process the personal information as set out in this Privacy Policy and as permitted by the UK's Data Protection Act/laws.

How we will keep your personal data

Your information will be securely stored. We will protect the confidentiality of your information in accordance with our normal data handling procedures and all legal requirements. We will not use it for any purposes other than those which are set out in this Notice. We are committed to keeping personal data secure and take all reasonable technical and organisational measures to protect personal data from loss, misuse or alteration.

The length of time we hold your personal information varies depending upon the type of information and its use. We will hold your personal information on our systems only for as long as necessary to provide research services to our clients, and will anonymise data where possible, securely deleting personal data associated with it at the earliest possible point. For this project, we intend to keep your personal information for six months after completion of the project (anticipated to be June 2027). We will then dispose your information by secure digital deletion.

Where your personal data will be processed

Your data will not be transferred or stored outside the UK or European Economic Area.

Your Rights

Co-operation in research is voluntary at all times regardless of what the research is about or who our client is. You are entitled at any stage to ask that your personal data, or part or all of the record of your survey responses, be destroyed or deleted and we will carry out such a request. This can be requested during the interview itself or afterwards. You have the right to access any personal data that we process relating to you. We may ask for verification of your identity before releasing any information to you.
